

Gregory Barber

Morehouse College '17

gregory.barber@morehouse.edu

Gregory is a junior Bonner Scholar at Morehouse College. He is a Psychology major with a minor in African-American Studies. As a Bonner Scholar, Gregory serves on the Bonner Leadership Team as Junior Bonner Intern and Freshman Class Coordinator. Through the Bonner Program, Gregory has spearheaded efforts to catalyze college students to combat food insecurity in their communities through his work at the Atlanta Community Food Bank. Gregory also co-directs "It's On the House" which provide a Thanksgiving Dinner to the West End Community and "SandwichRunAUC" which provides brown paper bags of sandwiches, fruits, and other nutritious items to children and adults facing food insecurity and homelessness. Through the Bonner Program currently, Gregory volunteers at the Gateway Center, a transitional housing program for homeless men and women. After Morehouse College, Gregory plans to matriculate into a Doctorate program focusing on community psychology.

Tabi Rudzinski

Ursinus College '16

tarudzinski@ursinus.edu

My name is Tabi Rudzinski and I am currently a senior at Ursinus College in Collegeville, PA. I am a Biology major with a minor in Psychology and I hope to become an occupational therapist one day. My primary service is Sebastian Riding Associates, a therapeutic horseback riding facility. I love SRA because it combines my love of people and animals with my career goals and social interest areas. When I am not doing service or with my fellow Bonners, you can probably find me riding my bike, reading a book, or playing with my dogs!

Derrion May

Waynesburg University '16

may2492@student.waynesburg.edu

Hello my name is Derrion May. I am a senior at Waynesburg University, where I am studying Biology with a concentration in Marine Biology. I love studying deep sea biology and coral reefs, which I want to research in order to identify ways in which we can sustain our reefs with the increase of industrialization. I have been a part of the Bonner program since my freshman year at Waynesburg, and I am currently a member of the Bonner Leadership Team and lead one of our Issue Based Projects. During the school year, I serve at Laughlin Chapel where I work with at risk youth by encouraging them to meet their educational goals. My service at Laughlin varies from tutoring kindergartners to discussing plans after college with high school students. Aside from doing research and service, I love music, traveling, and being outdoors.

Anna Grace Barry

Carson-Newman University '17

agbarry@cn.edu

Anna Grace Barry is a rising junior Bonner Scholar at Carson-Newman University in Jefferson City, TN. Originally from Maryville, TN, she is a double major in Human Services and Spanish, with a minor in Religious Studies. Anna Grace's academic interests include immigration rights, world religions, and access to education for first-generation students. For the past two years, Anna Grace has served at Appalachian Outreach, which is a local non-profit that meets the direct housing, clothing, and dietary needs of over a 5 county radius in Appalachia.

Last summer, Anna Grace served with Metanoia Community Development Corporation in North Charleston, South Carolina and this coming fall will serve as an intern for the Bonner Center at Carson-Newman. Anna Grace's interests include playing the banjo, dancing emphatically, having meaningful conversations over coffee, and spreading Bonner love in creative, refreshing ways.

Meg Schrafft

College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University '16

mvschrafft@csbsju.edu

Meg Schrafft is a senior Biology major at the College of Saint Benedict. She constantly looks for new adventures, whether it's traveling to Central America for a week, or trying out a new Indian restaurant in downtown Minneapolis. Her passion to get involved with the community is fueled by lots of coffee, tea, and Diet Coke. Besides helping with Bonner Advisory Board, Meg is involved in the CSB/SJU Bonner Leader Program, CSB Community Kitchen, and Birthline. She plans to enter the world of maternal and child health after she graduates, and is looking forward to many new adventures!

Jonathan Franklin

Wofford College '16

franklinja@email.wofford.edu

Jonathan is a senior Bonner Scholar at Wofford College. He is double majoring in English and Humanities with a minor in Business and a concentration in African/African American Studies. As a Bonner Scholar, Jonathan serves on the Bonner Leadership Team at Wofford--serving as an intern and a Bonner Congress representative in addition to aiding with the curriculum and development of the Wofford Bonner program--as well as volunteering with the Urban League of the Upstate as a mentor, tutor, and Program Assistant. For his Summer of Service project during Summer 2013, Jonathan and another Wofford Bonner produced and led a seven week G.E.D. tutorial program in Spartanburg with the Urban League of the Upstate and several other Spartanburg agencies, helping more than five participants obtain their G.E.D. Jonathan has a passion for Journalism and Education, as he hopes to obtain a career in one or both after graduating from Wofford. Jonathan loves to meet new people, singing, and traveling.

John Massey

Stetson University '16

jmassey1992@gmail.com

John Massey is in his third and final year as a member of the Bonner Advisory Board. He is a proud Bonner Scholar of the Stetson University Bonner Program, which has allowed him to work with one of the most amazing groups of people he has ever encountered. John is a Molecular Biology major with minors in Chemistry and in the Certificate of Community Engagement. He has a passion for pre-med and health care advocacy, and his current service site is at the Good Samaritan Clinic in order to further his goal of one day becoming a primary care physician. John's other campus activities include the Honors Program, Volunteering Division Chair for Stetson's newly-formed chapter of the pre-medical honor society, Alpha Epsilon Delta and president/founder of the Stetson Health Coalition. John is also involved in the field of molecular ecology research, specifically, stonefly phylogeography, and he recently presented at the Association of Southeastern Biologists conference in the Spring of 2014. He enjoys spending time with friends, periodically going to the gym, playing pickup basketball with friends, hiking in his beautiful home state of Maine and writing in his free time.

Aaron Smith

Widener University '17

aesmith@mail.widener.edu

Aaron is a Junior Political Science/ International Relations major at Widener University in Chester, Pennsylvania. He has been involved in the Bonner program during his entire time at Widener while also being involved in Faith Life on campus, Student Government, club sports, and research. He took a semester abroad studying social change in Guatemala, Costa Rica, and Nicaragua during the Fall 2014 semester.

Aaron is excited to be working with the Bonner Advisory Board, and hopes that he can bring a global perspective to the program, as well as learn from his peers who are doing amazing things throughout the country.

Diamond Carr

Rider University '16

carrd@rider.edu

Diamond is a rising senior at Rider University. She studies Psychology with a minor in Social Work. She currently holds a number of leadership positions including Summer Bonner Intern, the President of Rider's Unashamed Gospel Choir and a Bonner Advisory Board Member. She is also a McNair Scholar and intends to attend a graduate program to earn a doctorate degree starting in the fall of 2016. For Diamond, leadership is a learning experience because you cannot teach what you have not learned. She understands that being a leader is not dictation but delegation and teamwork. She does her best to inspire her teams and be the example she wants them to follow. She is learning to live her legacy as was the theme of SLI at Berry College last summer. "The two most important days in your life are the day you are born and the day you find out why." (Mark Twain)

Megan Breitenbach

Montclair State University '16

breitenbacm2@montclair.edu

My name is Megan Breitenbach and I am a rising senior at Montclair State University in Montclair, New Jersey. I am an English Education major with a dual certification in Inclusive Education as well as a minor in Leadership Development Through Civic Engagement. This will be my first year as a BAB member, but I have been a member of my Bonner Leaders program for three years now. This past year I served as one of my university's Congress Representatives and created a mentoring system that served to welcome and help create relationships within a large influx of new Bonners. In June I will be going on a service trip with my fellow Bonner Leaders to New Orleans in order to help repair some of the damaged homes still affected by Hurricane Katrina. I have participated in several different service sites and projects through Bonner, varying from working with special needs young adults to the homeless population in Asheville, North Carolina. Being a born and raised Jersey girl, I love going to the shore, taking trips to New York City and shopping at one of the many malls near my house. I am excited to be a BAB member and look forward to assisting with the Big Idea track as well as meeting more Bonners!

Chloe Stowell

University of Houston '17

cstowell95@gmail.com

Chloe Stowell is a junior Political Science and Anthropology double major minoring in Politics and Ethics at the University of Houston. As a member of the Bonner Leaders at UH, Chloe is constantly working with her wonderful team to find effective and efficient solutions to the problem of poverty in the city of Houston. Specifically, Chloe leads initiatives to provide equal access to education for students in the area. She leads a chapter of Strive for College at her University in the hopes of giving first generation college students the opportunity to apply for their best-fit college. Her passion for service has led her to opportunities such as research in Educational psychology and a summer of studying Arabic in Morocco. In her rare moments of free time, Chloe learns new languages, drinks too much tea, makes new friends, leads bible studies, reads good books, and sings obnoxiously to Taylor Swift.
