MPA WASHINGTON, D.C. ACCELERATOR PROGRAM

It's the best of both worlds—the top-ranked Master of Public Affairs (MPA) offered at the O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs combined with an exclusive experiential learning opportunity in Washington, D.C. You'll complete the nation's best core curriculum in person on the Bloomington campus, studying with world-renowned faculty at Indiana University. You'll spend your second year practicing what you learn in the real world, completing your capstone project with a client in the nation's capital, tackling real-world issues in real time.

THE NATION'S BEST MPA PROGRAM

Learn with cutting-edge faculty in what U.S. News & World Report named its #1 Master of Public Affairs program. The D.C. Accelerator program offers the same faculty, time commitment, and tuition as our traditional MPA. Choose from the top-ranked policy analysis, public management, or nonprofit management concentrations, or create your own concentration that aligns with your interests during your time in D.C.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING IN D.C.

The exclusive D.C. Accelerator program offers the opportunity to fast-track a career in the nation’s capital. With a smaller, more intimate cohort of 24 students, the chance to build community with your peers in D.C. could set you up for success in the big city. Opportunities to network with O’Neill alumni in the D.C. area and partner with a mentor offer even more potential.

CREATE CHANGE

By having the opportunity to complete your capstone project with D.C.-based organizations in a variety of fields, you can apply what you learn at IU to real-world situations relevant to Washington. You will work with leading drivers of change in the U.S. and the world in their offices before completing your MPA.

“The first connections I made from an O’Neill event in Washington, D.C. helped build the foundation of my professional network. In the position I hold now at USDA, having a network in other federal agencies with which I need to collaborate has been a tremendous benefit, not only personally, but to the betterment of the mission at hand.”
